Get Drawn into the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum by The Science of Art

Saturday, May 3 and Sunday, May 4: Explore Sciencepalooza: The Science of Art at the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum with hands-on activities and special guests. Investigate paper making, and check out the world of color with Pysanka—the Ukrainian art of egg painting. Sciencepalooza is held the first weekend of every month at the Museum and explores a specific topic in a fun and festive environment with in-depth hands-on experiments, activities, special guests and demonstrations.

Be sure to check out our special guests. Matt Shlian, will be hosting 2-hour Paper Engineering Workshops in the Legacy Gallery on Saturday, May 3. Laura Walsh, will be hosting 90-minute Origami Workshops in the ScienceWorks Lab on Sunday, May 4.

Workshops are free with paid Museum admission, but tickets are required to participate. Tickets are available at the front desk on a first come, first served basis. Museum hours are Saturday from 10am – 5pm, and Sunday from Noon – 5pm. Hands-On activities run daily until 1 hour before closing.

Discover the Scientist within you at the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum. Explorers of all ages can investigate a world full of educational and interactive exhibits that highlight the wonders of math, science and technology. Hours: Monday – Saturday 10am – 5pm, Sunday Noon – 5pm. Call 734.995.5439 for more information.
